

A Scriptural Argument in Favor of Withdrawing Fellowship: From Churches and Ecclesiastical Bodies Tolerating Slaveholding Among Them (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from A Scriptural Argument in Favor of Withdrawing Fellowship: From Churches and Ecclesiastical Bodies Tolerating Slaveholding Among Them A serious study of the question which stands at the head of the following Argument was undertaken, nearly a year since, at the earnest request of a highly esteemed friend, who has for years been ably advocating the cause of truth and justice in his weekly journal. The same subject, shortly after, was assigned me by the ministerial Association to which I belong; and the entire article has been, at different times, submitted to their hearing and critical remarks. The Argument is now published under an impression that something of the kind is needed; and with the hope that the views here presented may lead to such further consideration of the great question discussed, as shall terminate in such action as truth, righteousness, and the honor of religion shall demand - especially of those Ecclesiastical Bodies which have justly condemned slaveholding as a great sin against both God and man, but have never yet withdrawn fellowship either from the corresponding bodies which give countenance to it, or from such ministers and church members as are known to be directly engaged in it.
